Don’t Miss This Premier Asphalt Event!

55th Petersen Asphalt Research Conference
July 15-18, 2018

The Petersen Asphalt Research Conference is an international forum for researchers, highway officials, producers and others with a stake in advancing the specification, performance, characterization and knowledge of asphalt materials. This two-and-a-half-day conference promotes an understanding of how asphalt chemistry, physical properties and interactions affect the performance of asphalt applications throughout their life cycle.

Specifications, testing, instrumentation, methods and technology to improve performance are often introduced here. For more than 50 years, research presented and discussed at the Petersen Asphalt Research Conference has contributed to safer, longer-lasting and more cost-effective highways throughout the world.

You are invited to submit a presentation abstract on current asphalt research results from fundamental or applied science or engineering studies. Please see Call for Papers on the Petersen Conference web site. (And don’t forget, submitting an abstract doesn’t automatically register you for the conference.)

Registration

Early registration for the Petersen Conference is $650 through June 25 and $750 after June 26. The student rate for currently enrolled students is $375 through June 26 and $475 after June 25. On-site registration is $850 and $575 for students.

Register by mail or online at www.petersenasphaltconference.org.
